

Samuel J. Fleming and the Margrave Farm

Before the legendary mile-long "four cornered" track at the present site of Memorial Stadium was abandoned, the area celebrated several outstanding standardbred horse farms.

Warren Park, owned by William Putnam Ijams and his family, and William Riley McKeen's Edgewood Farm may be the most frequently mentioned – but Margrave Farm owned by Samuel J. Fleming was named after, and home of, one of its most marketable sires.

Margrave, "the handsomest, best bred and most prolific son of Baron Wilkes," by Spanish Maiden, was touted by its owners as "the grandest individual trotting stallion alive."

As a show horse, Margrave defeated the best stallions in America, counting six victories over Kentucky Peak, winner of the Grand Prize at the St. Louis Exposition, and a blue ribbon at the 1905 Indianapolis Horse Show.

Between 1891 and 1895, Margrave compiled an impressive list of victories on the turf, defeating opponents such as William Penn 2:07¹/₂, Elloree 2:08¹/₄, Cut Glass 2:10¹/₄, Oro Wilkes, 2:11, Wistful 2:11¹/₄, Zembia 2:11¹/₄, Gertrude 2:12¹/₄, The Conqueror 2:12¹/₄, Oscar William 2:12³/₄ and Silicon 2:13¹/₄.

Of all the horses he met during his racing career, only two – unbeaten world record holder Fantasy 2:06 and Azote 2:04³/₄ – defeated him.

In 1891, Margrave was the largest money-winning yearling. The following year he was the largest money-winning 2-year-old. In 1893, he was the largest money-winning 3-year-old. In 1894, he was the third-largest money winner of all ages.

MIKE
McCORMICK

Significantly, Margrave was extremely successful as a stud. In 1906, he was touted as the sire of 26 standard performers, three better than 2:15, six better than 2:16, 10 as good or better than 2:20 and 18 better than 2:25.

On that list were Myrave 2:11¹/₄, the champion 4-year-old mare of 1905, Marcheale 2:18³/₄, winner of third money in the classic Kentucky Futurity and timed separately in 2:10 and 2:10¹/₄, both heats being faster than the existing 3-year-old stallion record.

In addition to those cited above, as a 15-year old stallion in 1905, Margrave produced Helen Bertram 2:12, Mars 2:13¹/₄, Vasten 2:15¹/₄, Merrell Margrave 2:15¹/₄ and 2:12 in fast trial, Marnut 2:15¹/₄ and 2:11¹/₄ in fast trial, Blue Racer 2:18¹/₄, and Margate 2:18¹/₂, all below 2:20.

In a 1905 study of stallions siring new 2:30 performers, Margrave stood at the head of a list of all sires 18 years of age or less with 16. Axworthy, another Terre Haute product, was third on the list with 14.

In Horse Review's list of the 50 leading sires of 1905, Baron Wilkes 2:18 and no less than four of his sons – Margrave 2:15¹/₂, Baronmore 2:14¹/₄, Oakland Baron 2:09¹/₄ and Barondale 2:11¹/₄ pacing – were identified.

Margrave was not the only trotter Fleming nurtured. In 1904, he acquired Baron Review, a full brother of Margrave.

In his early life, Baron Review's opportunities apparently were limited. He spent his first four years at H.L. Asher's Highland Farm near Lexington. Asher sold Baron at a New York sale to newspaper magnate Robert E. Bonner.

After Bonner's death in 1899, his estate sold the horse to Senator McCarty, who had a farm near Goshen, N.Y. Fleming purchased Baron Review from McCarty.

In his first two years under Fleming, Baron Review produced three trotters with standard records and sired Baron Wedgewood, who ran 2:09¹/₄ in a race.

Fleming asserted in 1906 that "we have owned Baron for two years and have a grand lot of colts by him. We think he is a coming great sire, and the equal of Margrave, or any other stallion, in every way except reputation. He is himself a fast trotter and should this year take a record of 2:12 or better."

In 1909, Baroness Virginia, owned by Fleming, won the Kentucky Futurity in sensational fashion at Lexington's famous Red Mile track.

Fleming died following gall bladder surgery on Jan. 6, 1916, at age 67 at the family residence at 904 S. Seventh St. in Terre Haute. His wife, Frances, also 67 years old, preceded him in death on May 16, 1915.

Their only son, Dr.

Charles Isaac Fleming, was a veterinarian. He suffered a disabling stroke a few years after his father died and was forced to retire.

Charles died at age 52 on Oct. 10, 1926, from a cerebral hemorrhage. He is buried in Highland Lawn Cemetery.

About 18 months after Sam Fleming's death, Terre Haute grain dealer Paul Kuhn put the name of the city back in the horse racing headlines by purchasing The Harvester, former world record holder, for $30,100 at an auction at New York's Madison Square Garden.

Kuhn had achieved success after acquiring Forrest Park, a few miles northeast of Terre Haute. The DeForest, son of Axtell, was his premier stallion. The Harvester was acquired in 1907 to succeed The DeForest as Kuhn's top stud.

During 1908, The Harvester was unbeaten under the guidance of Edward "Pop" Geers, won the Kentucky Futurity and was named Horse of the Year. In 1910, he lowered the stallion record to 2:01. He was so popular that a cigar was named after him and The Harvester's portrait adorned the cigar box.

Kuhn took advantage of his ownership of The Harvester, annually sponsoring "The Harvester Stake" at Forest Park. Every eligible entrant had to be a descendant of The Harvester.

Kuhn died May 2, 1928, at age 63. His widow, Emma, became a centenarian while residing in the Hotel Deming, where she died Nov. 10, 1960.

Dear A.B. -

I seem to have been indifferent to those in Georgia's profession who were as I see Hester when he was and can think only of John Kitcherson, Kiceball Patterson and John " " & uncle, an old (to me) farmer who had some horses there now & then. Those years were making history of the turf as amazing as of today. Millionaires from the East were the patrons and today we have only people from

Ind. - Mich. - Ohio - Nebraska coming to our Grand Circuit meetings. Here the Kentuckians who once trained their yearlings to sell and broke them down in the process so that Leg was called the Graveyard are not so prominent. Ben White in his 70's and his sons train for Reynolds of tobacco fame. I never see any of them nor go to the trotting meeting. People of money interested in trotters in the East are around Westbury, Long Island and the two Portwick brothers are the prince pal patrons. John Dickerson died at his sister's home in Greensburg Ind after a stroke of paralysis that made him a physical wreck, yet able to walk about - a sad spectacle after his "fizz & pep" previous way of life. His brother had been up to his death a year or so ago, manager of Harriman's track & horse interests at Goshen N.Y. after having been his trainer. Kimball Patterson was George's assistant, he left about 2 years perhaps earlier after we were married. To go into thoroughbreds, had some success but when I saw him in California last year was in ill health & seemed to be just a stranger on at the track there, going daily from his home Santa Monica to place bets for other people - he died and his wife followed soon after a victim of consumption she was Miss Herring of La Jolla.

father owned a farm³ here, his sons Roddy who once managed Mr.
Riley McKee's farm opp. the track at J. H. and married Nona Miller of J. H. whose father was a J. H. business man - clothing if I remember correctly, she divorced him and lived in Pittsburg with some of the Patterson boys relatives - Chas.
who was prominent as a trainer of Thoroughbreds, principally for John E. Madden. He also is dead.

Mrs. Kimball Patterson had a successful florist's shop in Santa Monica and they had a nice little home there - I do not recall the street, but their daughter (subnormal) and Kim's sister lived with them - the sister Elizabeth nice person. I saw them all twice while I was out there - I stopped in Hollywood at The Hollywood Hotel. You will find the great days⁴ of the T. H. track were before 1897 while Budd Noble was King of the turf & George his assistant (many have told me doing all the work of conditioning & Noble doing part of the racing to get the credit. Very soon Monroe Salisbury took him away from Noble & George's great day began.

He trained 12 yrs in California brought his stable East for racing, also raced in Calif - his patrons were Capt. Winter who owned a line of steamships on the Pacific, Lucky Baldwin of fabulous Santa Anita ranch & fame as a gambler, real estate San Francisco owner, ladies man etc. The "Horseman" should be good research material for you I will find out if our University library has the files & you could come over for a few days to go through them ~~and~~ talk to Roy Miller who still lives - he was a younger man than⁵ most of the trainers here, an intelligent person and has a room full of photographs of the old events and personalities.

Like George he was of the cream not the dregs of the turf. He lives at a horseman's hotel or boarding house, but very nice place, I could get you in there with a little notice of your coming so why not pack up your tooth brush & do it. "The trot" will be on soon & all space reserved so decide at once. If you wanted to write related stories, this library would surely supply material.

I was the means by which they acquired the complete issues of the Spirit of the Times, a periodical published in Calif in the days of El Paso Ray, Emperor Norfolk etc long before it was any thing but a town that raced up & down Main St. 6

Boz Miller can give you many stories of days when the Grand Circuit wound up its program here - There was nothing for the visitors to do here after the racing but walk through Main St. looking at the shop windows & as a result made a key day for the merchants.

Now, all interest is in the Thoroughbred & the shops' windows display women's lingerie, the hotels raise their prices to 10.00 per day European plan & for the Spring Meeting things are very bright here for the horse business & social life.

Telephone the University Library tomorrow & get the information also get the dates of the trots.

By the scratchy way I write you can imagine I'm not much of a correspondent - I sent Florence a little help as I've done twice before before - I suppose Paul ^{you} did also. Where is Paul in Calif. and in what way is he ill?

I certainly have been blessed with good health and as I believe I told you once before - quite.
not a nice word for a lady but so expressive.

Give my love to your family - I am interested in Mary E. Think Richard is a lucky man to have a wife like her - when you come over better bring your car & go about the farms - they get finer & more numerous as the years go by - My - Texas (King Rauch) & Chicago money flows like water -

So I'll be seeing you, I hope very soon. As ever Grace.
